

As I write this I am sitting in my office dressed as a Dalmatian, having braved the A30 in full costume. I was delighted to discover I was not the only one gloriously attired in character costume for world book day. There are some magnificent costumes wandering around, thank you parents for getting into the theme of it and thank you to those who organised a lovely day!

On a more educational note, the ISI Inspectorate have advised that they are running significantly behind on the issuing of inspection reports, so currently I am unable to give you an arrival date, however we will issue it as soon as we receive it.

Tomorrow we have the Trainers from 'Be More Pirate' coming in to do a workshop with Years 9, 10, 12 and 13. They train everyone from corporate financiers and CEO's to individuals and their training is aimed to teach people how to 'shake things up'. Students will be challenged on their willingness to think differently, to do what is right and learn how to stand up and lead a team. We look forward to feedback.

I hope you all have a lovely Mothers Day and would like to thank the 6th Form for giving students the opportunity to purchase Mothers Day gifts at school.

Have a good weekend everyone!
